

Tom Dougherty is a partner in the law firm of Lewis Roca Rothgerber LLP. He leads the firm's Unmanned Aircraft Systems Industry Team where he advises businesses in multiple industries on UAS operational and regulatory issues. Mr. Dougherty also represents a broad range of commercial, utility, energy, government, and private clients in litigation, regulatory, legislative, and public policy matters. As an attorney, engineer, and licensed pilot, Tom brings a unique understanding of the legal and technical aspects of clients' projects and an effective problem-solving perspective.