

Gary is the HOA Information Officer for the Colorado HOA Information and Resource Center within DORA. In addition, he also handles the subdivision and timeshare filings for the division. Gary is an attorney, and was originally admitted to practice law in 1984. His past legal experience concentrated in the areas of real estate law, HOAs, bankruptcy, small business matters, consumer issues, estates/probate, and timeshares. He also has experience in the corporate arena, and was in charge of title education for a large title company in Denver, heading up the foreclosure/investor and timeshare divisions, acting as educational corporate trainer, and working on industry legislative concerns.

He has also taught numerous real estate classes throughout Colorado to Realtor boards, Realtors, title companies, lenders, investors and consumers, as well as being a national and regional speaker on HOA/timeshare board member and owner issues. Gary has also advised and served on many organizations, including HOA Boards, Chambers of Commerce, and Special Business Service Districts.
